FPI Testers Website News

We're making great progress on our new website! Coming soon, you'll see many improvements, including:

- Easy access from your mobile device.
- More self-service features, with easy access to view and update your profile information.
- At-a-glance information on your testing and payment history.

The redesign of our website will make it easier for you to find tests and other important information you need instantly. We are excited to show it to you!

How Important Is Your Opinion?

Your opinion matters! When you test, you are the voice for consumers all across the country. Your opinion influences which products appear on our grocery store shelves. Now that's important!

Please answer all screening questions as carefully and thoroughly as possible. And since so many others are counting on your voice to represent them, please make every effort to attend the tests for which you are scheduled. Thank you for being an FPI Tester!

Have Kids?

Make sure to let us know this on your profile! We have many tests specifically for kids, and many others for adults who have kids. If you provide us with this information we'll keep you informed about all available tests!
